

Short Bio:

Dr. Md. Jahurul Haque
instructor
Department of Agriculture
University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff, USA

Dr. Md. Jahurul Haque is currently working as an instructor in the Department of Agriculture at the University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff. He obtained his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology from the University of Rajshahi in 2004. In 2007, he received a University Putra Malaysia (UPM) Scholarship to pursue another Master of Science degree in Food Science and Technology. Subsequently, in 2011, he was awarded a university scholarship at University Sains Malaysia (USM) to pursue his Doctor of Philosophy degree.

In 2014, Dr. Haque joined as a senior lecturer in the Faculty of Food Science and Nutrition at University Malaysia Sabah (UMS). He has also served as an educator at UCSI University, Malaysia, and University of Science and Technology, Hanoi, Vietnam. His research interests encompass nutraceuticals, supercritical fluid extraction, value-added foods, food processing, novel food ingredients, functional foods, food by-products, lipid chemistry and technology, innovative food products, nutritional biochemistry, bioactive compounds, natural products, chemical food safety, and food safety risk assessment.

Furthermore, Dr. Haque has published over 100 articles (Total Citations 7220, h-index 32) in peer-reviewed prestigious journals.