

Short Biography of the Author

Kaniz Fatema is currently working as a Senior Lecturer at Department of English, East West University (EWU). She started her teaching career in 2017 after completing her Master's degree in Applied Linguistics and English Language Teaching (ELT) from the Department of English, University of Dhaka. She was awarded government merit scholarship by Dhaka Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education for her HSC result and Dhaka University Merit Scholarship for both Bachelor's and Master's Degrees. She has published research articles from different national peer reviewed journals. Besides, she has presented her research works in national and international conferences. As student, she worked as research assistant at the University of Liberal Arts (ULAB) and served the Department of English, University of Dhaka for two years as one the Mentors under the supervision of both University of Dhaka and University of Manchester, United Kingdom. Among her professional responsibilities at EWU, she coordinates ENG 100 course (Improving Oral Communication Skills), cooperates in Writing Centre of English Department as a regular and active member, develops Course Learning Outcome (CLO) -based syllabus and curriculum as one of the contributing members, moderates English Language Teaching and Applied Linguistics Courses' examination questions. She was one of the trainers for the faculty members of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences faculty (at EWU) to introduce potential online teaching and learning platforms in implementing online teaching during pandemic situation. She also trained Teaching Assistants (TAs) for ENG 100 course. Furthermore, she conducted workshops (in coordination with East West University Centre for Research and Training-EWUCRT) and course development sessions for the course instructors. In addition, she is a life-time member of Bangladesh English Language Teachers' Association (BELTA) since 2018. Her research interests include teaching language skills, blended platform in language teaching, education and technology and material developments.